

Change: rules and ideas corruption, resistance and a new democracy?

Announcements/Reminders

NAME on your blog (tab or “about me” widget)

Posting on your blog--once a week

Reading Question/Response don't forget them

Reading Quiz Tuesday - review sheet (at the end of class) finish up group work

For the current system make sure you have:

all the stake holders, their interests, their power and voice in the system the rules--formal and informal-- they they want to maintain and/or change

For the “new system” make sure you have the same BUT that you have rearranged the power/voice and changed the rules to create a more JUST global system (be specific) challenges

change from bottom up corporate and govt. lobbying rules made but not enforced solutions favor corporations: “tradable pollution allowances” green “marketing” sustainable development resistance and voice individual and societal change personal, corporate and governmental responsibility buying time vs. structural changes challenge the rules reclaim democratic structures reinvigorate democracy citizen focus coalitions

informed debate

What we need to do (239) value projects that protect lives and ecosystems put controls on corporate power empower local people to define their life options institute a global living wage end global debt system that maintains poverty and undercuts democracy promote real sustainable development have well funded, accountable global institutions

Reading Quiz Tuesday

ONE page of notes: hand written or typed in 12 point font essay questions based on review sheet

Quiz will be FIVE ESSAY questions be critical, be specific, give examples